

ROOFTOP FILMS PRESENTS:

FRIDAY, JUNE 10TH, 2005: AT AUTOMOTIVE HIGH SCHOOL

Hi-Lo Film Festival

Because $40 million can kill a good idea

San Francisco's Hi/Lo Film Festival (www.hilofilmfestival.com) returns to the roof with more of their uniquely madcap short films. The high concept/low budget films have been coming to the roof for six years now and this year's batch is the highest and lowest of them all.

TOTAL PROGRAM: 17 FILMS, 1:35:00:

NATURE'S BLUEPRINTS

by MIKE SEELY (10:00)

Director of Hush (Rooftop 7/9/04). Architect Eugene Tsui plumbs the depths of nature's wisdom seeking inspiration for his architectural designs. Nature's Blueprints takes you on a trip to the edges of Tsui's imagination. His fantastic structures provoke questions about the future of our built environments and our relationship to the natural world.

VALIUM AND GRASS

by BILL MACOMBER AND TONY SCHLOSS (12:00)

Assembling a collage that is as much sonic as it is visual, these filmmakers set hypnotic beats to an eclectic mix of b-movie and home movie footage. Then they scribble over it, cut it up, fold it in on itself, and get deliriously trippy with it.

CANDY GIRL

by CHARLES ROXBURGH (5:00)

Gussied up in the bright red colors of a bygone Soviet era of space exploration, a girl races in her rocket to get back to the moon in time to save the universe and keep her dog from going crazy.

PLUS:

SECRET SANTA (ALAN HARRIS, 3:00)

NEIGHBORS (THE DB, 6:00)

PAPILLON D'AMOUR (NICOLAS PROVOST, 4:00)

ROTATION (ERIN HUDSON, 3:00)

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES (TOM TORO, 7:00)

PETUNIA (AARON HUGHES, 3:00)

ONCE UPON A TIME IN BROOKLYN (NEIL NEEDLEMAN, 7:00)

I CAN SAY IT (DAVID POLITZER, 3:00)

MAGIC HOSTESS (ROB TYLER, 4:00)

MOBIUS (JULIE KAHN, 4:00)

GOOD STRONG ROOF (TONY GAULT, 6:00)

SPAM-KU: I WON A HAIKU CONTEST ABOUT SPAM

(STEVEN TSUCHIDA, 5:00)

DARK-BRIGHT-RED (DANANN BREATHNACH, 9:00)

FINANCIAL ADVICE (FRITZ DONNELLY, 5:00)

